Notes for Robert C. Houston:

Robert moved from his birth state of Kentucky to McNairy County, TN before 1822. He married Rebecca Chambers before the county was organized and had to go to Savannah to have the rites of matrimony solemnized. He knew what it was to contend with horse thieves as well as wild beasts. Robert constructed, as his first home a one room log cabin near where Mt. Vernon Church now stands, which was then in the midst of a vast wilderness of wide area. For want of tools and material to make a shutter for the door of this rude habitation, it was for a time closed by means of quilts and blankets insecurely fastened over it. Here his young wife with the a courage and fortitude born of her time, lived and kept house much of the time alone by night and day. Braving the dangers and enduring the hardship imposed by her primeval surroundings, many times literally fighting the wolves away from her small stock of pigs and poultry, while her husband cultivated his first crop on land several miles away. Later he established his permanent home south of that point at what is now known as the George Houston place (named for their grandson), where he spent the remainder of his life and is buried there. He was one of the original members of the Mt. Vernon Cumberland Presbyterian Church. This was the first church of that faith if not the first of any faith in this section of the county. He was a Whig in politics, as were his sons before the Civil War. Henry Clay was their political idol. He was modest and retiring in disposition and never sought public office. By exceptional industry and thrift he acquired considerable property, principally in land and slaves.

- ii. JOHN HOUSTON was born about 1825 in , McNairy, TN.

- iv. ARCHIBALD K. HOUSTON was born about 1829 in , McNairy, TN. He died in Jul 1864.

Notes for Archibald K. Houston:

Taken From "The Houston Family" written by J. C. Houston, son of R. S. Houston, who was a son of R. C. Houston

Arch became a lawyer and resided at Purdy. He was quaint with respect to some of the lighter things of life, especially in the matter of dress. He could never be drawn away from his homespun and home tailored brown jeans apparel. Whether engaged in court or participating in the social functions of his time, he adhered strictly to that homely material. Though strongly opposed to the Civil War, when the break came he cast his fortunes with the South. Owing to frail health, he did not enter the army service at first. However, being on a visit to his brother and others in the army at Belmont when the battle of that place came on in the early part of the war, he went voluntarily into the battle by the side of his relatives and friends and fought it thorough in a manner which called forth the highest praise from the witnesses of his conduct. In January 1863, he joined the army permanently at Little Rock, Arkansas, and remained in the service in that state until July 1864 when he sickened and died. He was cared for in his illness by a former Tennessean named Agee in (probably) Ashley County, Arkansas, and was given an orderly burial under religious auspices at Macedonia Church nearby. His people here knew little of him after he went to Arkansas, and knew nothing of his death until long after it occurred. For these reasons the good account afterwards given of him by others is prized the more highly. I have before me a letter written on March 16, 1865, by Finley G. Duke, a former McNarian, and at that time an officer in the Confederate service in Arkansas, in which, among other references to Arch Houston, these statements appear: "He was the best soldier that ever shouldered a gun. I have heard officers from Orderly Sergeant to Colonel say he was the best soldier they ever saw." These words were written by a generous comrade to bereaved parents, and due allowance should be made. But I have other letters not written to his own people which thoroughly attest the enviable record which he sustained there both as a soldier and as a man. He was never married.

The first three of David and Harriet's children, (Archibald, Rebecca Jane and Anthony Lambert) were born in Tennessee. In 1833 David following in the foot steps of his Scotch-Irish father and other relatives chose to continue in the colonization of the new world. David made application for and was granted a league and labor of land in Robertson's Colony, Texas, Republic of Mexico. At the time Sterling C. Robertson was out of favor with the Mexican Government and his colony was under the control of Stephen F. Austin. According to the State of Texas General Land Office David and his family actually settled in Texas on May 2, 1835. The requirements for immigration and settlement in Texas were to take an oath to observe the federal and state constitutions and the Catholic religion if already settled in the State, and to prove their "Christian and good moral character" by testimonials from the place of their emigration. The original grant of lands that David received in 1835 are now in the area of Bell, Burleson, and Milam counties, Texas. The following year the war for Texas' independence was raised and David assisted those fleeing the armies of Santa Anna in what was know as the "run away escape". David is listed as a Captain in the Texas Army. "Attack and Counter Attack, The Texas Mexican Frontier 1842" by Joseph Milton Nance lists David as serving in Montgomery County Militia, First Regiment of the First Brigade under Capt. Richard Williams. The remainder of David and Harriet's children were born in Texas, where they both lived until their deaths. Both are buried in the Antioch Cemetery near Lovelady, Texas in Houston County. There is a historical marker at the entrance to the cemetery, stating that David is the first known burial in that cemetery. The Sons of the Republic of Texas has provided grave markers made of pink granite, the same stone that the capital building in Austin is made of for,both graves.

Family History

Information from Billie Steeley, Irving, TX, 11 Oct 1997; In two out of three censuses (1850), (1870) Harriett, said she was born in SC, not TN. I tried to find Eleander in 1800-1810 SC census indexes with no luck; tried NC, too.

In the 1830 Census of McNairy Co., at Purdy, on p. 141 is found on Anthony B. Lambert! This is only a short distance from David and Harriett on p. 134, in the exact same area of the county. He is not in the TN index for either 1820 or 1840 - I have not found where he went. There are no Lambert's in the cemetery book. Both A. B. Lambert and A. M. Lambert are in the deed index 1824-1838 Book A. The census entry shows him to have been born between 1790-1800, too late to be Harriett's father; but he could have been her broher.

Backtracking to other states, I found an Anthony Lambert in the 1820 Census of Brunswick Co. NC which is in the SE corner right on the SC border. The entry shows a female in Harriett's age group, and this person is not there in the 1830 census.

Notes for Robert Samuel Houston:

Taken from "The Houston Family" written by J. C. Houston, son of Robert S. Houston, who was a son of Robert C. Houston

Robert S. was attending school at Purdy when the Civil War came on. He served in the Confederate Army under Forrest and was severely wounded in the Battle of Brice's Cross Roads. He was married in 1862 to Irene Mitchie, second daughter of the late G. G. Mitchie, Sr., and spent his life after the war on a farm originally settled by his Grandfather Chambers. He was a member of the first Legislature of Tennessee after the adoption of the Constitution of 1870. He was not again a candidate for that office or any other, except that he served as a Justice of the Peace continuously for more than 20 years, having been elected each time without opposition. He was a constant reader and took pains to inform himself upon public men and measures, and the deference with which his views were regarded generally by his neighbors has impressed me as being one of the highest compliments that could be paid to a man.

Joyce (Houston) Wisley wrote the following:

This is a story about my great-grandfather, Archibald A. Houston, told to me by my brothers, Don & Kenneth Houston. Our Grandfather Sam Houston used to visit us in the 1930s. He loved to tell stories to my brothers about his father. When the Civil War broke out, Archibald was determined he did not want to fight in the war. He left his wife, Susan and six children, aged one year old to fourteen. He and two of his buddies left home heading for Mexico on horseback. Archie always carried two guns strapped around his waist. He and his friends stayed with several families, along the way, moving each day. After several months of running they were invited to stay at this one place sleeping in a shed on the property. During the night Archie heard several different voices discussing him and his friends. He overheard the owner telling the men about these three fugitives on the property. Archie decided then not to stay any longer, so he got on his horse and rode on down the road.

He says he never knew what happened to his two buddies. He was finally caught, brought back to Texas and served about one year in the Civil War.

In the meantime, his wife, Susan, had remarried a man that beat on her. One day my Grandfather, Sam, said his older brother William, about age 14, took a shotgun and shot his step-dad. After that William ran away, never to be seen or heard from again. Grandpa Sam said he was almost certain that William showed up at his father's funeral in 1905 because Sam said a man leaned over the casket and muttered something not too likeable. In my family history research I have been unable to find any trace of a William D. Houston, could he have changed his name? Also, I have never found out what happened to Susan. Archie remarried in 1866 to a woman named Elizabeth. After talking to several of my Aunts, they always thought their Grandmother's name was Elizabeth. According to the Census Records, I have researched, she never had any children.

BIOGRAPHY: Arch Houston - as told by Kenneth N. Houston, September 1989

When the Civil War broke out Arch decided that he was not going to fight so he headed for Mexico. The Army had guards along the border so he rode within a few miles of the border to a ranch house. He asked if he could stay all night and they said he could.

The day before he stopped at the ranch his buddy wanted to stop at another house. Arch would not but his buddy did. The next morning while sitting on a hill some distance away he saw the army run down his buddy and shoot him from the saddle. He said the army had doped his horse that night so his horse could not run very fast.

At the ranch house where Arch stayed they put him in a little room out on the front porch. Back in those days almost all the houses had a room on the front porch. As the man shut the door he heard him put a bar across the door. Then he heard him tell one of his servants to ride to the border and tell the army that he had Arch Houston locked up in a room. Arch had already pulled off his boots so he slipped them back on. The window had boards nailed across it so he took his boots and pushed the boards off the window. Then he went out to the barn and began to shuck corn for his horse. When the army got there he let the logs down on the back side of the lot. In those days most of the corrals were built out of logs. He rode out and crossed the border into Mexico. From that time on Grandpa Sam Houston never did hear from Arch anymore. The story is that he married a woman in Mexico.

Now this is just a story that Grandpa Sam Houston would tell every summer. I hope this is what you wanted me to put down from my memory. It has been a long time and I may have forgotten some of the story.

Don said that Grandpa Sam Houston used to sing a song they wrote about Arch but he can not remember it. It was about hounds running after Arch. I remember a little about him singing but don't remember what the words were he sang either.

Notes for Walter George Kruse:
Information about the Kruse family came from Susan Aston.

Walter Kruse had a barber shop in Phoenix, Arizona back in the 1940's and 1950's. My mother worked for him as a hair dresser in his shop. While working there, he introduced her to my father. He was a very good friend to our family. He was like a grandfather to me and my brother. We loved him very much. To us he was called "Krusie." My parents called him "Kruse". After my father died in 2006, I found that he had saved Kruse's obituary, and I decided to start a file on him and do some research. All our lives, we only knew Martha as Kruse's wife, but when I started researching, I found out about Maggie. I don't know what he did in his life after Maggie died, but I do have pictures of him on his wedding day to Martha in 1944.

Notes for Joyce Corrella Houston:

Born 30 Sep 1927, on a farm east of Crosbyton, TX, about 40 miles east of Lubbock, TX. Her Mother said she named her "Joyce" because she was a "Joy" to her. By the time she was 5 the family had moved to Dickens County, TX.

By 1938, her family had moved to Montague County, TX, near the town of Sunset, where they bought an 80 acre farm. She and her youngest brother walked 5 miles to school, rain or shine to a one room school. Her oldest brothers went off and joined the C.C.C. camps.

By early 1943, her 3 older brothers had been called into the Army or joined the Navy. Her father decided the family should move to Stockton, CA, where her oldest sister, Oleta, and family lived. Her father and youngest brother found work in the shipyards as welders, with her brother going part time to school. In 1944, he was drafted into the Army. Shortly afterwards, her parents insisted she get her driver's license, they didn't care to drive, especially in the big city. Finally she got up enough nerve to tackle this chore. As she was driving, with the Department of Motor Vehicles officer, she came to an intersection with no four way stops. The first thing she knew, a car appeared in front of her, and she hit the car broadside, doing very little damage, as she was not going very fast. The woman driving the car had not noticed the officer in the car with Joyce so she began to tell her off. The officer spoke up, telling her it was her fault, that she had the right-of-way. The officer could not grant her the license, but asked her to come back in a few weeks. The pressure from her parents got so bad, that after a few weeks she ventured back. Would you believe she got the same officer! They probably didn't drive more than 4 blocks, with the officer telling her every little thing she should do. He issued her a driver's license.

In Jan 1945, she met her future husband at a roller skating rink in Stockton, CA. His ship had come to Stockton for some needed repairs. She guessed it was love at first sight, because they became engaged within a month, but because he was due to ship out for 2 years they decided to wait to get married. In March 1945, his ship the USS Skylark, a mine sweeper, was hit and sunk by mines while sweeping the mine fields off the coast of Okinawa, Japan. All survivors were picked up by a U.S. destroyer after they had been in the water for several hours. As a survivor, he was granted a 45 day leave. He returned to the United States and they were married May 18, 1945, after she promised her parents that she would finish her last month of high school. After that, he got shore duty not far from Stockton. By October 1945, he was discharged from the Navy and they decided to move to San Diego, CA, where he was born and raised. Her parents had already moved back to their farm in Texas, where they rebuilt their home into a more modern house, doing all the work themselves, even though they were both in their late fifties.

Generation 6 (con't)

Soon after their arrival in San Diego, her husband got a job working at NAS North Island for Federal Civil Service. Joyce worked part-time at odd jobs, while raising a daughter and son. Later she worked as a bookkeeper. In 1953, she and her husband bought their present home in La Mesa, CA

Notes for Sammie Jo Houston:

7 Oct 1916 New Mexico Birth Certificate, corrected

From Tales & Trails of Bailey County, the First 70 Years, Taylor Publishing Co., Dallas, TX 1988

S. M. "Bo" and Sammie, with our two sons, Don and Dean, moved to Bailey County in 1948 from Dickens County, Texas. We bought a farm southwest of Muleshoe in the Longview community. FM 746 ran through our farm and was paved that year. Our third son, Gary, was born here. They all attended and graduated from Muleshoe public schools. They rode the school bus about an hour each morning and each afternoon. Don, Dean and Gary grew up on the farm, but we bought a house and moved into town in 1968 after the two older boys had left home and Gary was a junior in high school.

We farmed 1150 acres, 600 acres rented from Dr. L.T. and Dorothy Green. On July 4, 1953, our crop was hailed out. When it dried out enough to plant, our neighbors moved in with 14 tractors and planted the field in one day. The ladies brought covered dishes. We enjoyed the good food and fellowship and the children enjoyed the day, too. We always raised a large garden of corn, watermelons, cataloupes, etc., and our neighbors and friends from town would help themselves. In 1955, we drilled our first irrigation well on one of our farms. We tried furrow watering, but bought a sprinkler system that first year. Years later we put in underground pipe and watered with a sideroll sprinkler. We sold the irrigated land in 1978 when Bo retired but kept the dry land and rented it, which we still do.

Our family recreation was picnicing, boating and skiing, and movies. We would take our boat to Monument Lake to ski and picnic. A dam was built above the lake in the late 1950s and that did away with the skiing.

Don, Dean, and Gary attended Texas Tech University. Don got his Ph.D. in Economics from North Carolina State University and married LaNelle Boothe of Muleshoe. They have one daughter, Heather. Dean got his Ph.D. in Agricultural Economics at the University of California at Berkely and married Lanell Lafon of Muleshoe. They have two daughters, Lisa and Tiffany. Gary married Melita King of Muleshoe and they have one daughter, Erin.

Notes for Sidney Melvin Ethridge:

Sidney Melvin Ethridge's nickname was "Bo." Dean Ethridge wrote that his Grandpa Ethridge called Sidney Melvin, "Bo", because he thought Melvin was noticeably bow-legged as a baby. This condition did not persist into adulthood. Grandpa Ethridge gave nicknames to most (if not all) of his boys. Melvin's nickname stuck with him throughout his life. Many people who knew him well did not know his given name, Sidney Melvin.
